Local Guard in Sixth Year Of Service To Glades

This week marks six years of service under Federal recognition for Company E 211th Infantry Unit in the Glades area. The unit received Federal Recognition on 25 Mar. 1948 and has been stationed at the American Legion Home since then.

Every summer they attended Summer field training at Ft. Jackson, S. C., until 1961 and they have been changed to Ft. McClellan, Ala. in 51, 52, and 53.

The unit has seen no active duty in either State or Federal service. The unit was organized under Capt. Arthur J. Lively, who served from March of 1948 to June of 50. The next Company Commander was Capt. John R. Hooker and his term was from June '46 to April '52 when he resigned his command to 2nd Lt. John H. Cromartie, who is in command of the unit at this time.

Plans are being made now for our army on the Belle Glade — South Bay road near the hospital. Building would raise the interest of the eligible men in the area to join the unit and serve our community.

Maybe you don't know that six of our Presidents — an average of one in every six — were Guardsmen. They were George Washington, Abe Lincoln, Andrew Jackson, Chester Arthur, Teddy Roosevelt and Harry Truman. The First National Guard unit began in 1636.

NEWS VIEWS

It is supposed that as long as mankind rolls over the highways on wheels, the so-called weaker sex will be accused of making all the mistakes. . . insurance company statistics notwithstanding. . . When a woman goes wrong in traffic, the males in the vicinity usually moan, "Woman driver!" . . . before they even see who's driving.

So the recent story out of Connecticut wasn't surprising. It seems a man stalled his car on the Merritt Parkway. He hailed a passing car, driven by a woman, and asked for a push. Since his car had an automatic transmission, he told her she'd have to get up to ground 35 miles per hour to get him started. He got back into his car and waited for the push. When he looked back, he was horrified to see her car racing toward him. . . at 35 miles an hour! The damage to his car cost $300.

Now it turns out the story was a hoax, and the accident never happened. . . but there'll be a lot of die-hard males who'll mutter, "Well, it might have."

An Oklahoma City political candidate has announced his campaign motto: "If it's right, I'm for it." All we need now is a definition of the word "right." Whatever your definition of what's right for the nation, I'll find you your choice at your lunch counter. Whether you want breakfast, a good old-fashioned, a sandwich or a plate lunch . . . or fountain service . . . be sure to go to GLADES DRUG STORE.

NEWS OF JUNIORS AT FIRST BAPTIST 88

The third program in the Junior Prayer School covering a study of "Learning About"

Prayer From Jesus" was taken from 1 Timothy 2:1-3. This was an older preacher, (Paul), wrote to a young preacher, friend, (Timothy), about prayer. The pupils were invited to compose a prayer for the leaders and lawmakers of our country. Then each Junior was given an outline map or the United States on which they were asked to mark their home town, their state capital, and Washington, D. C. They saw that if they were to obey the words they read from Paul's letter to Timothy that they would pray for the people in these places. Then together they read softly the pupils' prayer on the chalkboard they had composed in the earlier part of the program.

The song "America" was used throughout the program with Susan Clark at the piano and Willie Buss acting as Usher.

Junior night at the Revival last week was attended by a large number of pupils and teachers. The contact committee was appointed as follows: Joyce Rasmey, Edward Hayes, Janet Kirk, Alvin Schleicher, Carolyn Rasmey, Steve Weeks, Georgiana Mills, and John Chambliss.

The Banner stayed with Mr. Weddell's class of 10 year boys last Sunday. Mrs. Gladys Edwards class of 12 year girls had second highest grade and Mrs. Josephine Hayes class of 9 year girls third.

There were two new members welcomed into Mrs. Josephine Hayes class. They were Frances Lee and Sylvia Scott. Two visitors in Mrs. Edwards class were Judy and Martha Farmer.

HIS PROMISE

The Master encouraged His disciples to face the unknown world with His promise, saying to them, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto end of the world."

He had just said, "All power is given unto me in Heaven and in earth," and now He promises His unfulfilling presence for the unknown future.

We look ahead to unknown experiences, and yet we do so with courage, if we know Him and trust in His unfulfilling presence and resources.

He sends us forth into this world to be His witnesses. We are the salt in the world. We are His witnesses. We are His servants. Let us be, we serve and give to the utmost of our ability as we travel the highway of life.

Wayman Missionary.

It is His will that each of His disciples grow in grace, and in the knowledge of the Truth. What He desires for the individual, He also desires for the entire body of believers. We are to be lights in the world. We are the salt in the world. We are His witnesses. We are His servants. Let us be, we serve and give to the utmost of our ability as we travel the highway of life.

All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name

A baby girl is born to a Yankee carpenter

Oliver Holden put down his saw, beat out a few bars of a melody and picked up his hammer. The 21-year-old carpenter-musician had come to Charleston from nearby Shirley, Massachusetts, to help rebuild the town after the British had burned it during the Revolution. Though he needed a lesson in music, Holden was famous for composing a welcoming song for George Washington when the general visited Boston in 1780.

One day after the singing carpenter failed to get far work, friends called to learn the reason. They found him at an open piano, just become the father of a baby girl and he had now in his head a song that was sounding out and putting on paper.

Came 1783, Charleston had been rebuilt. Oliver Holden, at twenty-eight, was a real estate, was a member of the legislature, owned a music store, built a Baptist Church at his own expense and was up to his neck editing material for his hymnal, "American Harmony." He had found some verses in the English periodical, "The Gospel Magazine," but the author had omitted his name.

England's Rev. Edward Perronet had preached and written hymns for the wider borders while they were establishing the Methodist Church. But Perronet's hymns of John Wesley and Wesley based Perronet's hymns from Methodist song books. But Perronet kept on writing... under pen names and under no name at all. Oliver Holden didn't know all that. He just knew the anonymous words fit the time he had written after his little daughter was born and the hymn "Crown Him with Many Names" suggested the title "Coronation." But, perhaps John Wesley wouldn't object but Perronet's of the Methodist Church, as well as many another denomination, has been using Perronet's

VEGETABLE AND ANIMAL OILS BRING MILLIONS

Florida produced vegetable and animal oils reached a total value of approximately $25,500,000 last year and were shipped nationwide, for use in hundreds of manufactured products.

Heading the list of the State's vegetable oils are the various pine oils. Used either as tall oil (a by-product of wood pulp plants) or in more refined forms, they go into the manufacture of paints, varnishes, plastic products, pharmaceuticals, disinfectants, rubber, jellies, soaps and ink.

Other Florida oils are reviewed in this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division. The State's principal seed oil crop is tung oil, important to the manufacture of paints, varnishes, artificial leather, inks and tin-coating fluids. Tung oil's quick drying and water resistant qualities are its especially desirable qualities.

Citrus peel and seed oils and lemon grass oil are known as "essential oils." Comparatively small quantities of these and related oils are necessary in the manufacture of perfumes, flavors, medicinals and insecticides.

Grease and tallow, a valuable by-product of Florida's livestock industry, are the principal animal oils produced in the State. Fish oil is extracted in Florida, mainly from menhaden. Virtually all of this oil is shipped out of the State and used in the manufacture of soaps, linoleum, paints, waterproofing compounds and in the tempering of steel.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TONITE AND SAT.

"George Washington Slept Here" Is Entertaining High School Play

Mrs. Barbara Spark, speech instructor, is leading a group of High School students in a re-production of the George Kautman-Moss Hart Comedy at the Auditorium tonight and Saturday night.

This play spoofs the hopeful city-dwellers dreams of returning to the old-fashioned family joys by "taking a little piece in the country".

Newton Fuller buys a broken-down farmhouse — one of those old stone houses that go back to Revolutionary Days in Bucks County, Pa. Cows and horses in the kitchen, the walls and floors are falling in and water has to be carried up from a distant brook.

Wrest with Japanese beetles, and seventeen-year locusts, the noise attending the drilling of a well, a belligerent neighbor, and visiting relatives, the Fuller family discovers that getting away from it all in the country isn't quite the Utopia they had been led to expect.

As the bewildered Newton Fuller, Gene Pope will be playing the role created by Ernest Truax in New York. Johnny Holladay will be seen as Fuller's pessimistic wife, and Jeanie Royals as their daughter, who thinks she's in love with a summer theatre actor. Jimmie Robinson will play the wealthy Uncle Stanley who's infatuated with the sound of his own voice, and Ervin McTaggart will portray Raymond, a malevolent moppel.

Others in the play will include: Mr. Kimber — Mickey Herring; Steve Eldridge — Johnny Schuster.

Katie — Geraldine Bailey; Mrs. Douglas — Winifred Burry; Clayton Evans — Lynn Norman; Rena Leile — Virginia Kelsoe; Hester — Jane Allen; Leggett Frazier — Jerry Brent; Tommy Hughes — Lavon Bass; Sue Barrington — Cheryl Corbin; Miss Wilcox — Monline Doolittle; Mr. Prescott — Joel Parker.

LATIN CONFERENCE. AIR ACADEMY TALK BY SMATHERS

Senator George Smathers will discuss Florida's hopes for gaining life support U. S. Air Academy in his radio report this week from the Nation's capital. The Florida senator will also discuss the Inter-American Conference now underway at Caracas, Venezuela, and its importance to the nation.

Both subjects will be treated in an interview recorded at Washington and scheduled for broadcast here over WSWN at Belle Glade.

The 10 minute program is being made available to the local radio audience as a public service by the station's management.

Senator Smathers last year offered a bill to create an Air Academy to be located in Florida. The House has passed and the Senate now has before it such a bill, which has been approved by the Senate Armed Services Committee. But the measure leaves to the Secretary of the Air the responsibility for selecting a site.

The Latin American conference opened on March 1, with the U. S. represented by a delegation headed by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. Senator Smathers has been urging closer trade, diplomatic and cultural ties between the U. S. and the "Good Neighbor" countries to the South, charging that for years there has been preoccupation with Europe and Asia to our country's detriment.

OUT-OF-STATE AUTOS BRINGING LOTS OF FOLKS

Southbound, out-of-state passenger automobiles entering Florida ran up a total of 2,384,910 last year.

This total for the calendar year 1953 was more by 2 percent than during 1952, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported recently.

"One-day border traffic, which has increased appreciably in recent years, accounted for approximately 37 percent of this year's total, eliminating this traffic, the number of out-of-state passenger cars entering the State last year would be adjusted to 1,740,254.

This week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division reports further breakdown of the total. Some 30 percent of the cars which remained in the State more than one day were business cars and totaled $22,076. The balance, or 1,218,178 cars, brought tourists.

The average tourist passenger automobile last year carried 2.3 persons per car. This 2,302,000 tourists came to Florida by car last year. Business cars, with an average of 1.1 persons per car, brought 274,284 persons.

There weren't very many activities carried out last week by our organization due to the six weeks examinations scheduled. However, two field trips were made, one by the tenth grade class and the other by one section of the 9th grade class.

The former class made a study of the insects that affected vegetables during the recent warm days. Aphids (small green flies) seem to affect tender vegetables when warm weather sets in. The members of this class observed the aphids and studied ways and means of destroying them.

The latter class has a project of growing out and fattening a pig and conditioning it to use in furnishing meat for our annual banquet in April. The concentrates (Grains and Grains by-products) and green feed being in preparing a balance ration for this pig were studied by this class.

The other classes have been working on materials for their

The members of 7A class gave an impressive assembly program on Wednesday. Of the outstanding events and birthday anniversaries observed in the month of February "Brotherhood Week" was selected as the theme of the program.

Beatrice Sanford gave the meaning of "Brotherhood." Robert Haskings, Helen Rogers and Evelyn Jones recited poems on "True Brotherhood."

Estelle Howell sang a solo. Hazel Poole read Scripture and Eloise Veven acted as mistress of ceremony. Mrs. E. B. Moore is the class sponsor.

The glee club of Everglades Vocational High School presented a concert March 10, 1954 at the Everglades Presbyterian Church, Rev. R. E. Ford, pastor. The program consisted of Adoration and Spirituals. We were highly presented with two solos by Leola Miller. They were "Morning" and "Deep River." The Glee Club was directed by

It is a fund-raising activity by which the school is able to secure many essential items of equipment, etc. for our children and it provides the child the opportunity to exercise his or her talent through speech, dramatics, singing, dancing and cooperative living.

The show will be presented at the school on the following places: Coconut Grove, West Palm Beach, Clewiston, Fort Pierce, etc. Our first presentation will be on April 14th at the Show Boat Theatre in Pahokee. It will prove to be the best show of the year. Miss the tickets are now on sale.

THE UNITED STATES POLL

Public Regards Stricter Law Enforcement. Cutting Down Speeding. Raising Age Limits As Way To Reduce Auto Accident Toll

By Kenneth Fink, Director, Princeton Research Service

One of the most important problems facing the nation today is the reduction of the auto accident toll.

The importance of the problem was highlighted last month by President Eisenhower's accidents in the last 50 years than had been killed in all the years that the nation has engaged in since its founding.

In 1953, Mr. Eisenhower said, more than 38,000 people died as a result of auto accidents and more than 100,000 people were seriously injured.

The President further added that last year there were more than one million auto accidents in the nation.

Unquestionably, the problem of cutting down auto accidents is one of the nation's most serious problems.

To determine what the American public to think can be done about the problem of auto accident reduction, the United States Poll this month asked a representative cross-section of the nation's adult citizens:

"What one suggestion do you have for cutting down auto accidents in this state?"

Results of the survey show that three ways of cutting down auto accidents are uppermost on American people's minds at the present time:

1. Stricter law enforcement; stricter enforcement of traffic laws; better law enforcement.

2. Cutting down speeding; cutting speed; less speed; slow them up a bit.

3. Raising the age limits for drivers; raise license age; too many young people in accidents; raise driver age limits to 20 or 21.

Just about one out of every two people interviewed mentioned one of the above three. And each was named at least twice as often as any other single suggestion.

Next most important ways to reduce auto accidents, judging by the number of mentions are:

4. People should drive more carefully; there's too much careless driving.

5. People should drive more slowly.

6. Reexamination of all drivers at periodic intervals.

7. The need for more traffic and highway police.

8. Drivers should be more courteous; need more courtesy on the road.

9. Better highways between all big cities.

10. Take old cars off the road; take all cars built before 1945 off the road.

More control of teen-age drivers; governors on all cars to cut down their speed; the need for consolidating all traffic regulations on a state and national basis, and compulsory auto insurance also received some mention.

Following are some typical comments that sum up the thinking of many of the nation's citizens:

There should be better highway supervision by the police. They should enforce the speed laws.

Make the age limit for drivers higher.

Make people drive slower.

There should be strict enforcement of existing laws.

Hurrying is what causes accidents. They should be a little more to reach their destinations, there would be less accidents.

They should be a little more severe with violators.

Minors should not be allowed to drive recklessly.

There should be more rigid driving exams for licenses.

We need more traffic law enforcement officials.

SOUTHERN BELL'S

Beach County, it would have been difficult to determine just who received the 50,000th telephone.

Twenty years ago, the County had 7,825 telephones; it now has 50,477, or an increase of 538 percent. Approximately 12.6 telephones served every 100 people then. This figure has increased to 39.88 telephones per 100 population at the present time.

Telephone service in Palm Beach County is one of the fastest growing sections of the nation. While it has taken the Bell System ten years to double by the number of telephones, here in Palm Beach County we have more than doubled our telephones in seven years.

Following is a comparison by exchanges in the County showing telephones in service in 1934 and 1944:

30-Year-Growth Comparison

Exchange	1934	1944
6250 West Palm B.	22,419	6,486

Telephone development engineers forecast more than 50,000 telephones will be in service by 1963, had nearly 105,000 by 1973.

To keep these 50,000 or more telephones in good service, the Company employs 500 people, representing an annual payroll of nearly $1,700,000.

A large percentage of the gain in the past 20 years has been since the end of World War II. To meet this demand for service, the Company has spent $13,582,000 in Palm Beach County since 1946 for new telephone facilities, as part of a Florida-wide $100,000,000 construction program. Gross construction in Florida for 1954 will approximate $40,500,000.

A new telephone office now under construction at Riviera Beach will serve subscribers in the County area north of West Palm Beach, as well as customers in the northern section of West Palm Beach. The new office will be in service at midnight on September 18, 1954. At this time all telephones in Lake Park, Riviera Beach, and north of 30th Street in West Palm Beach and north of Tanger Avenue in Palm Beach, will be cut in this new office. All telephone numbers in the affected areas, approximately 5,000, will be changed. The new numbers will be in the directory, delivery of which will be coordinated with the establishment of the new office.

Additional equipment will be installed this year in all nine of the Southern Bell Exchanges serving Palm Beach County. Incidentally, throughout the nation the average investment per individual residence line telephone in 1940 was $285. In 1953 the cost was more than $400.

Florida's placing an average of 81,337 long distance calls per day, it has become necessary to develop more long distance circuits. One of these new developments will become a reality to Palm Beach County this year with the establishment of a new micro wave system for transmitting telephonic and television signals. When the new microwave towers, placed at 30 mile intervals, between West Palm Beach, Orlando and Jacksonville are completed, they will handle a capacity of 3,600 simultaneous calls.

Bell Telephone Company Construction forces have begun work on a second coaxial cable equipped with a new type of amplifier or "booster," which will parallel the existing cable between West Palm Beach and Miami when installation is completed later this year.

The new amplifying equipment known as "L-3," was developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories. It can carry more television programs and long distance telephone conversations than older types of equipment.

One pair of coaxial tubes fully equipped with L-3 can carry either 1,800 telephone conversations or 600 telephone conversations plus a television program in each direction. The new cable will contain eight such tubes. Cost of this project, about $12 million dollars.

Another service which may come to the County soon is urban mobile telephone service. This is a service whereby customers can have telephones in their automobiles. They can call or be called just as they would from their homes or offices. A recent survey indicates that there is considerable demand in the County for this service and it is likely that expansion in the radio-telephone field will start here soon.

"Many people ask me if all of this money for expansion from profits," Reddy said. "It does not, and we would like for the public to understand better where it does come from. Actually, profits and surplus which the entire Southern Bell has accumulated in its 75 year history would pay for about one-third of the construction program in the city of Miami since the end of the war. We have spent over $180,000,000 in Florida since 1946. We will spend over $40,000,000 in Florida this year.

This money does not come from profits or earnings. It comes from investors who buy Company stocks and bonds. It is only through money loaned to us (Bonds) or invested (Stocks) that we can construct new buildings, cables, switchboards, etc.

Without the financial aid of over a million and a quarter shareholders and thousands of bond holders, there would be practically no expansion. Without expansion, millions of people would not have telephones. The Bell System has spent over nine billion dollars since the war in construction. This money came from investors and not from earnings. It has resulted in about 20 million telephones being added, or about double the number in 1945. Since this money for expansion came from investors, it is apparent that millions of people would not have been able to get telephones except through the investments of other Americans. We can only attract these investments if the people believe in the integrity of our securities and receive adequate earnings, to say."

which they are entitled. Earnings, which are improving, have not been satisfactory for many years. Further improvement is not only prudent, but essential, for the telephone business must continue to grow and expand. I do not believe the American people would have it any other way."
